

What do organised worldviews have to tell us about what truth is and where it might be found?

Key Vocabulary

Qur'an- Muslim's holy book

Organized worldview- beliefs shared among particular groups

Communal worldview- shared worldview of a family or a faith community

Personal worldview- An individual's own way of understanding

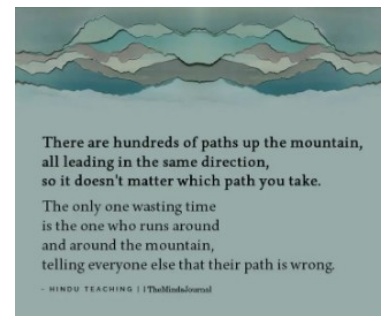

Humanism- trust to the scientific evidence

Philosophy- Someone who likes to think deeply about big questions about life,

Truth - can be all about what is real and what is 'correct', like finding the answer to a puzzle or figuring out if something is true or false.

I wonder how this statue might represent two people searching for truth?

Key questions

What are the three types of Nones?

Name a philosopher:

Love your neighbour as yourself' Luke 10:27 - What does this mean?

Key Information

"Truth is not something handed down or revealed, but something we discover and uncover through critical thinking, evidence, and reason."

"The Quran, the holy book of Islam, is the ultimate source of truth for Muslims. It provides guidance for all aspects of life and contains timeless wisdom."

"The Bible is the ultimate source of truth for Christians. It contains God's unchanging principles and provides guidance for our lives."

What does 'truth' mean to me?